

Reading importance and types

- Language is the basis of communication between man and life in all its meanings , whether in contact with himself or in his communication with others and occupies the Arabic language is of particular importance in the life of each individual is the repository of culture and the expression tool through which expresses his feelings as a mirror that reflects the lives of their social and cultural

- beliefs traditions , values , arts and education
Dr. hatem Bassayt's lecture focused on the cultural week that was held on the occasion of the mother language Day on the reading and its importance and its impact on the mind . he considered reading to be one of the skills of the Arabic language in addition to the skills of listening , speaking and writing . reading expands the circle of learners' experience and develops their intellectual abilities .

- the world around us , which opens the windows of light and science and guides us to ways that develop our intellectual and cultural consciousness and explained the light of the concept of reading , saying that it is a series of specific skills based on the understanding of the relationship between symbols almkto or of the written and the spoken

- sounds and perhaps the broader definition is the one who deals with various aspects of the reading process so look at it as an emotional mentality based on known symbols visually and acoustically membership process adding that the development of the concept of reading is due to several factors , including global and local political changes and comprehensive social development and individual motivation , which aims to raise the citizen for citizen for himself a complete education of mental ,

- sounds and perhaps the broader definition is the one who deals with various aspects of the reading process so look at it as an emotional mentality based on known symbols visually and acoustically membership process adding that the development of the concept of reading is due to several factors , including global and local political changes and comprehensive social development and individual motivation , which aims to raise the citizen for citizen for himself a complete education of mental ,

- voice to their significance and understanding of the process of a vehicle and a gradual break down level according to the level of pupils and their progress in reading the third component of the reading is reading criticism, where critical reading is an advanced level of reading because it depends on the analysis of meanings and diving in the hidden from the issuance of judgments on them while the fourth component is the taste of reading , which represents the psychological and emotional side of

- the reading process is linked to the aesthetic awareness of the reader reading emotional emotional knowledge process the link between the reader and the readable text and the last component of the reading components requires the reading of the problem in solving problems . this component represents the functional aspect of the reading process because it relates to the life of the reader and may encounter situations and problems in which he uses his gains of reading in dealing with

- these situations In his talk about the importance of reading , he mentioned that it is the key to science and learning. It provides us with diversity in subjects. I activates memory and opens the doors of knowledge tobenefit from the experiences of our predecessors. Continuous reading contains three important tasks: observation, exploration and self search for knowledge. With other language skills and their relationship to the processes of teaching